Coach Harry Gamage and his Wildcats settled down easily this week to the task of developing a high-powered football team before Kentucky plunges deep into Southern Conference waters November 2 with four consecutive conference games, including Clemson, Alabama, V. M. I., and Tennessee. At 7:30 o'clock Saturday night, the Big Blue meets Carson-Newman College of Tennessee in the second and last night game of the season.

The Wildcat mentor did not take the trouble to scout the Tennesseans as this team is not expected to be strong enough to give Kentucky much of a jolt, even if it does prove to be a surprise package. The next stop for the Kentucky machine will be the Centre struggle in Danville, always a deadly battle since the start of this feud half a century ago. In Chicago it is the saying that "Stagg fears Purdue," and in Kentucky the state institution is well known for its constant fear of the Gold and White threat from Centre.

Washington and Lee, a somewhat erratic sophomore team for Gamage with that 6 to 20 drubbing from the Wildcats last Saturday afternoon on Stoll field. Until that week-end the Blue and White was quite mysterious, practicing behind closed doors and being seen only once in a comparatively easy game against Maryville. Now Wildcat partisans are smelling wonders ahead.

Spicer Is Injured
Carey Spicer, the star who played the leading role in the victory over Washington and Lee, has not been in uniform this week on account of a serious injury to his knee. Conny Rose, varsity guard, was not able to play in the Washington-Lee game and is still on the side lines with an injured ankle.

Dick Richards, one of the most promising halfbacks, has not been able to play in a single game last week because of an injury to his leg. Ken Andrews, varsity end, and Tom Phillips, first string fullback, are suffering from various minor injuries.

If Coach Gamage can nurse these men along and have them in shape for his last five games, it is possible that he will have enough reserve material to continue through the season undefeated. If not, he stands a good chance to lose any one of those games.

This week he has been devoting most of his time to the reserves he will have to use in the big games ahead. Among his reserve backs are Warner Ford, who beat V. M. I. 25 to 10 in 1927 with his long runs, Lewis Toth, who saw action against Washington-Lee, Cecil Urbanak, Kentucky's "Stumpy Thomason," "Bo" Meyers, diminutive quarterback, and Jack Phillips, the Ashland fullback.

In the line the Cats have Bronston, Cavana, and Abley at ends; McElroy, Walters and Baughman at tackles; Howard Williams at center; Johnson and Gentile, guards. This second team outfit has battled the varsity to a standstill on several occasions.

Net Artists Face
Tough Schedule
Of 17 Games

Seventeen games, thirteen of them arranged to be played on the home floor, comprise the present schedule for Coach John Mauer and his Wildcat basketball team. A two-game series to be played in Lexington against the team representing Creighton University, the Notre Dame of the basketball world, will be one of the feature affairs on the card.

Coach Mauer sounded the first call for varsity basketball practice of the 1929-30 season last Monday and 15 men responded. Facing the toughest schedule ever attempted by the Blue and White, Mauer will attempt to get the jump on fundamental drilling insofar as it is possible with the work of coaching the ends of the football team also in line of duty.

Coach Mauer has seven letter men as a nucleus for this year's team. They are Captain McBrayer, "Big" McGinis, "Little" McGinis, Spicer, Combs, Trotter, and Owens. Some of the most likely prospects from the freshman team of last year are Roberts, Yates, and Kleiser.

Varsity practice is being held in the afternoon from two until four o'clock on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, with the frosh squad working out at the same hour on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. Four of the varsity candidates, Yates, Spicer, Bronston, and Kleiser, are members of the football squad. Numbered on the tentative card are some of the most formidable opponents in the Southern Conference as well as the strong Illinois team from the Big Ten circuit. If arrangements for this game are completed it will be played in Champaign.

The schedule is as follows:
Dec. 14—Georgetown, here.
Dec. 20—Miami, here.
Dec. 31—Centre, here.
Jan. 3—Clemson, here.
Jan. 6—Illinois, there (tentative).

Jan. 19—Tennessee, here.
Jan. 24-25—Miss. A. & M., here.
Jan. 31—Tennessee, there.
Feb. 1—Georgia, there.
Feb. 3—Clemson, there.
Feb. 8—Georgia Tech., here.
Feb. 14—Georgia, here.
Feb. 19—Centre, here.
Feb. 21—W. & L., here.

Officers for Year
Are Named By U. K.
Educational Frat

The second meeting of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary educational fraternity, was held Monday, October 14, in room 202 of the Education building. Mrs. Duncan presided at the election of officers for the ensuing year. They are: M. E. Ligon, councillor; W. H. Arnold, president; Paul Gard, vice-president; Emma B. Peck, secretary; Dr. W. S. Taylor, treasurer.

Plans were formulated for a banquet to be given at the Phoenix hotel ball-room at 6 o'clock Friday evening, October 25. This will be during the Educational Conference and will be sponsored by Kappa Delta Pi, Phi Delta Kappa, Lexington City Teachers' Club, and the Bluegrass Teachers' Executive League. Dr. Frank L. McVey will act as toastmaster.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale and may be bought from L. J. Horlacher, W. E. Freeman, Frank Randall, E. F. Farquhar, J. P. Troxell, and J. E. Adams. Three hundred guests are expected.

SUKY THANKS STUDENTS

The members of Suky Circle take this method of thanking the students for their interest and cooperation in making the Pep meeting and bonfire last Friday night a success. Especially do we thank the freshmen for the boxes they so generously brought.

In Colleges Where Every Student Can Vote

John Benson, senior in the College of Engineering and student colonel of the University R. O. T. C. unit, is unopposed for the office of president of the senior class, according to information obtained from the Dean of Men Wednesday afternoon.

Maude Van Buskirk, a member of Chi Omega, Mortar Board, Theta Sigma Phi, Chi Delta Phi, and secretary of the junior class last year; Edith Lital, Delta Zeta, president of the English Club, and member of the Fleur de Lis club; and Frances Baskett, a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, were nominated for the vice-presidency of the senior class. D'Alis Chapman, a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, is unopposed for the office of secretary.

Those nominated for the office of junior class president were: Joseph Allen, Pi Kappa Alpha; L. G. Forquer, Sigma Chi; and S. M. Worthington.

Mildred Little, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Margaret Cundiff, Alpha Gamma Delta, were nominated for vice-president. Jane Clay Kenney, Kappa Kappa Gamma, is unopposed for the office of secretary.

John S. Kelly, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Stewart Augustus, Alpha Tau Omega; and E. T. Moffitt, were nominated for the presidency of the sophomore class. Ruby Rodgers, Zeta Tau Alpha, Blime Callison, Alpha Gamma Delta, and Georgetown Walker, Kappa Kappa Gamma are the nominees for vice-president of the sophomore class. Eloise Dickenson is the only nominee for secretary.

Four men, the largest number for any of the offices, were nominated for president of the freshmen class. They include: J. D. Alexander, Richard Nelson, Evans Tracey, and Thornton Helm. Gay Loughridge, Chi Omega pledge; Virginia Huber, Chi Omega pledge; Dorothy Compton, Delta Zeta pledge; and Margaret Douglass, Delta Delta Delta pledge, and Mary King Montgomery were nominated for vice-president of the freshmen class. Jane Dyer, Alpha Gamma Delta pledge, is the only nominee for secretary.

The first election will be held Monday, October 21, when the officers for the senior class will be chosen. Other election dates announced by the Student Council are: Juniors, Tuesday, October 22; Sophomores, Wednesday, October 23; and freshmen, Thursday, October 24. Ballot boxes will be placed in the different colleges and every student will be entitled to vote in the class of which he is a member.

DEANS OF WOMEN
MEET AT MURRAYMiss Sarah Blanding and Mrs.
P. K. Holmes Represent
University at Kentucky
Convention

Miss Olivia E. Orr, Dean of Women at Kentucky Wesleyan College, was re-elected president of the Kentucky Association of Deans of Women at the conclusion of their two-day convention held at Murray State Teachers' College October 14 and 15. Danville, Ky., was selected for the next convention which will be held in the women's department of Centre College.

The convention was attended by thirty deans from colleges and high schools throughout Kentucky. Those attending from Lexington were: Miss Sarah Blanding, dean of women at the University; Mrs. P. K. Holmes, assistant dean of women at the University; Miss Hilda Threlkeld, dean of women at Hamilton College; and Miss Bertha Hamilton, dean of women at Transylvania College. Deans of six women's colleges in the state highly praised student government organizations and their officers.

Miss Blanding delivered an interesting address on the "Needs of Girls Socially." She gave a vivid picture of a dance celebrating the college football victory. She told of the girls and boys as they celebrated "in a lady-like and gentlemanly manner," then said, "I remember the 'Needs of Girls' and with a picture of the girls limping out on their poor, tired feet clearly before me, I concluded that the greatest need of girls today is to get to bed."

Educational Speaker

Dean M. E. Haggerty, of Minnesota, who will be one of the principal speakers at the Sixth Annual Educational Conference which will convene here October 25 and 26. Dean Haggerty is a member of a group of men that has done more work in college administration than any other group in America.

KENTUCKY, BERE
DEBATE TODAYThree Members of University
Forensic Team Will Appear
Before Mt. Vernon High School Audience

The University debating team will engage in four forensic debates during the next few days. The first debate will be held before a high school audience at Mt. Vernon, Ky., this morning with Berea College. The subject will be "Resolved that the United States Government should own and operate all hydroelectric plants." The debate will be repeated before the Academy assembly at Berea College at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Bruce Waters, H. C. Smith, and Hugh Jackson will represent the University in the first two debates and maintain the affirmative of the subject. Last summer the University engaged in a series of debates with Berea in the only summer school season for debating ever held at the University.

Six members of the team will debate the same subject on Monday morning at Mayslick, Ky. Hugh R. Jackson, Kermitt Pack and Clifford Amys will argue the affirmative side and will oppose Sidney T. Schell, William R. Pearce and James Porter who will argue negatively.

The fourth debate will be held at Ferguson high school, at Lueitha, Ky., Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock when H. C. Smith, Hugh R. Jackson and Clifford Amys meet Alfred Naft, William R. Pearce and James Porter in a debate on the same subject.

Prof. W. R. Sutherland, University debate coach, plans to hold several debates before the high schools and the Blue Grass in order to acquaint high school students with the method employed in inter-collegiate debate work. It will also give them an opportunity of hearing a discussion of the question which they, in all probability, will discuss the ensuing year.

If arrangements can be made Professor Sutherland intends to send two teams, composed of University debaters, to Somerset where a debate will be held between themselves, on the hydro-electric question.

The boys who will make the trip to Berea are all experienced debaters. Pearce and Amys have each had one year experience in inter-collegiate debate work having in that time engaged in fifteen debates. Waters became a member of the team last summer, when the University conducted a summer school debating team.

Rehearsals at the Guignol theatre for St. John Ervine's "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary" will continue throughout next week and will be climaxed by a number of dress rehearsals before the initial presentation of the play, which will be staged for an entire week beginning October 28. The production will contain one of the best casts of characters to ever perform in the campus play-house.

Prof. Frank C. Fowler, director, has made a few changes in the original cast. Mrs. Virginia Durbin, a graduate of Transylvania College and secretary of the Central Kentucky Women's Club, has been shifted to the role of Mrs. Westlake. The character role of Mrs. Considine will be executed by Mrs. Helen C. Krake who was formerly cast as Mrs. Westlake. Mrs. Krake is the director of public school music at Hamilton and Transylvania colleges and starred in "The Rivals," by Richard Brinsley Sheridan, in Philadelphia.

Prof. E. J. Canady, instructor of mathematics at the University, has been selected to characterize the part of Mr. Beeby, formerly played by Clarence Rotherburn.

The role of Sir Henry Considine will be played by Prof. R. D. McIntyre, instructor in the college of commerce at the University, who played in Girdler Fitch's "Whip of Fire."

Russell Duncan, of Covington, Ky., a freshman and pledge of the Sigma Nu fraternity, will make his debut in campus dramatics under the title of Geoffrey Considine. Mary Sidney Hobson, of Ashland, Ky., a member of the Chi Omega sorority, will also make her first appearance here in the role of Sheila Considine.

Miss Margie McLaughlin, instructor in the department of journalism at the University, will evoke much mirth in her role of Miss Mimms. Miss McLaughlin is a member of the Strollers, dramatic organization of the University, and is prominent for her work in dramatics.

Robert Thompson, former student at the University and former president of the Strollers, has been cast as Mr. Hobbs, theatrical manager for Mary Westlake. Miss Evelyn Gall, student at the University and instructor in elocution, and Claude Walker, member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity, will play important character roles.

The sale of student tickets is in charge of James Gates, graduate student in the college of commerce. A booth will be erected in front of the administration building next to the Strollers' office where tickets will be sold. The town ticket sale will be conducted under the auspices of the Junior League of Lexington.

STANLEY HEARD
BY ENGINEERSFormer Governor and Senator Speaks on "Traditions" at Weekly Assembly in Memorial Hall

Six hundred students and faculty of the College of Engineering heard ex-governor and former United States Senator A. O. Stanley deliver an address on "Traditions" in Memorial hall Wednesday morning at the regular weekly assembly of Engineering College. Dean F. Paul Anderson presided and introduced the speaker as the third in the list of prominent men whom Dean Anderson has procured to address the students.

Senator Stanley traced early civilization and showed its effect upon the pioneers of this country. He traced the ancestry of Americans and Kentuckians through the Angles, the Saxons, the English, and the American Colonial settlements, to the settlement and development of Kentucky. He said that "Valor in men and virtue in women" were two of the greatest assets in the heritage of Kentuckians and Americans.

"The Pilgrims came to this country to exercise the right to worship as they desired," he declared. Customs of the English gentry which prevailed in the early history of Virginia also were touched upon by the speaker.

Dr. A. W. Kelley, of the University, gave several selections on the new pipe organ at the opening of the meeting.

Beauty Entrants
Must Be Named
By Saturday

All petitions of nomination in the 1930 Kentuckian beauty contest must be turned in at the Kentuckian office by noon Saturday, October 19. Any number of nominations may be made, but each nominating petition must bear the names of 50 male students.

Petitions will not be received after noon Saturday. Next Tuesday, those who have been nominated will appear at the Kentuckian offices to have another picture made, this time especially for the beauty or favorite sections, and at the expense of the Kentuckian.

The Kentuckian has asked for permission to stage the annual "K" dance on Saturday night, November 2, and if the request is granted, the co-ed nominated as the most beautiful on the campus will be the guests of honor.

Later in the fall, the selection of the most beautiful girl on the campus will be made by two artists of international reputation, who already have signified their willingness to be the judges. The contest director, however, believes he can secure the aid of Cecil B. DeMille, the noted motion picture producer, and may do so.

In addition to the most beautiful Kentucky co-ed, seven others will be chosen as "Kentucky Beauties." The high ranking nominees not placed in the first eight will adorn the 1930 Kentuckian pages as "Kentucky Favorites."

This is the first time that an attempt has been made to select the most beautiful girl on the campus, eight as a group always having been selected heretofore. The judges will be limited to selecting from among those nominated, and therefore the Kentuckian editors hope that every girl who might be considered as possibly the most beautiful will be nominated.

The queen of beauty on the Kentucky campus will be nationally famous. Her picture and description will appear on the front pages of scores of American newspapers. She may receive offers to take the blindfold test, enter the movies, fly the Atlantic, climb the Woolworth building or get married.

Pitkin Club Holds Initial Meeting of
Year in Armory

The Pitkin Club held its first meeting at 4 p. m. Wednesday in the Y. M. C. A. room to determine the definite date of the opening of the club for the year.

The club is sponsored by the Maxwell Presbyterian church, and the Y. M. C. A. of the University. For the past four years, Dr. A. W. Fortune, pastor of the Central Christian church, has delivered lectures, his topic last year being "Jesus and the World Problem."

All wishing to join the club may turn their names in to Margaret Lewis, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. or Bart Peck, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. The maximum number admitted into the club is 75 members. All who enter after the specified number is admitted will have their names turned over to the membership committee, who will place them on the waiting list.

Stroller try outs are being held in the lecture room of McVey hall instead of Patterson hall as was originally announced by the organization. Thomas L. Riley, director, has set Wednesday afternoon as the final date for try outs and anyone anxious for a trial must communicate with him at the Pi Kappa Alpha house for an appointment. Plans for Amateur Night will be announced next week.

University Broadcasting Station
Plans "Fraternity Night" Program

By MARTIN R. GLENN.
"Please stand by for station announcements!"

Grecian songsters of the University will have the opportunity to tickle their tonsils and demonstrate their vocal abilities on the evening of October 30, when the University broadcasting station will be given over to "Fraternity Night." At that time, each fraternity will be allowed a few minutes to yodel respective sweetheart songs and hilarious ditties. So, drag out the luster and mercuriochrome, brothers, and prepare to win fame and fortune via the microphone.

The fair co-eds will not have the opportunity to exercise their delicate vocal chords until November 26, when sororities will perform in like manner for the great common people who are fortunate enough to

Violet Rays of Sunshine

not "artificial treatment"—make OLD GOLD... a better and a smoother cigarette

OLD GOLD brought about a great change in smoking habits. It gave smokers a new freedom of enjoyment... without any forbidden limits.

The man who used to say "I can't smoke until after lunch... my throat is sensitive in the morning" now finds that he can "light up" whenever he pleases. For his morning OLD GOLD has no more throat-scratch than his breakfast omelet.

Likewise all those who have to guard their throats... salesmen, singers, actors, and the like... no longer have to stint their smokes, for OLD GOLD is as free of throat irritants as a glass of spring water.

Better tobaccos did it... naturally good tobaccos... extra-prime leaf made irritant-free by the violet rays of sunshine... not by "artificial treatment."

If you like food that is naturally good, instead of food made good by "artificial treatment"... you're sure to prefer OLD GOLD'S natural tobacco smoothness. Try a package... and get a vote of thanks from both your throat and taste.

K. I. P. A. MEETING

The Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association of the college newspapers of this state, will hold its annual fall meeting at Murray, Ky., today and Saturday. At this meeting the duties and problems attendant to the editing and publishing of college newspapers will be discussed.

This collegiate group has as its purpose the raising of the standards of college newspapers, the bringing about of a greater fellowship between the various colleges of the state, and the elevation of college journalism to its proper rank.

The Kernel, eager to follow the road of progress, realizes the value of this type of collegiate association. K. I. P. A. has achieved much in the accomplishment of the purposes for which it was established, and The Kentucky Kernel enters wholeheartedly into the forward march of Kentucky's student journalists.

Dean E. G. Hill, of Dartmouth College, favors an age requirement of 18 years for college entrance.

MAINTAINING STUDENT RIGHTS

This year there appears above The Kernel editorial columns a slogan which reads, "Here Shall The Kernel Press All Student Rights Maintain." In order that no student shall be misled by it, an explanation is in order.

Just the other day a student came into the news office with a fancied grievance against a rather pertinent University rule, and demanded that The Kernel maintain his rights. On inquiry into the matter it was found that he had no rights at all, but was a wrongdoer of the most flagrant variety. And so it goes throughout the institution—persons bawling wrongs and rights when they are unable to distinguish between them, incapable of formulating a code in accord with the rules of the school.

By student rights, one naturally supposes that delegation of freedom which the University authorities have seen fit to place in students' hands. It follows that the wrongs are violations of that freedom.

The Kernel, in adopting the above slogan, takes the stand that students are entitled to the freedom so delegated, but no more; that there will be a fight for that freedom at all times. However, this paper will not countenance violations of University rules which were designed for the benefit of both the school and the students attending it, for the student who lives in utter disregard of the rights of his fellows is a bit too low caste to be allowed the privileges of this institution.

Let this be both a warning and a declaration of faith. The Kernel has faith with the school and the students who live within the bounds laid down by proper authorities, but it will not fight for those who are fighting fellow students and the University.

LITERARY SECTION

Margaret Cundiff, Editor

The following book review was judged the best contribution of the past week in the Literary section contest. If the author will see the Literary editor he will be awarded the prize of $1.00 which was offered for the most worthy contribution.

"ALL QUIET ON THE WESTERN FRONT"
Erich Remarque
Published by Brown, Little & Co.

"All Quiet on the Western Front," that great war novel which took the world by storm, is a story devastating in its strength, and one in which the author's thoughts are vividly penned. He depicts the suffering he sees, and one feels the sincerity of his thoughts through the eyes of the hero, Paul Baumer, a German lad in his teens, who serves through virtually the entire conflict: his soul is seared by blood and slaughter, and he dies a few weeks before the armistice, on a day so peaceful amid an awful carnage that the German High Command can only report: "All Quiet on the Western Front."

It is difficult to pick out any part of the book for special mention, the whole picture is so closely knit. Paul Baumer, the hero, enlists casually, gaily; he serves behind the lines for a time until he is sent into action. Before his first year of service ends he is hardened and grim, and hates war with an implacable hate. There is none of Nason's infectious gaiety here, none of the high-spirited dauntlessness which so delighted the readers in Warton's "Squad." But the picture drawn by this author is that Germany regarded war more as a habit than as an adventure, and to the German soldier it was just one more war—something to be fought and won if possible, stolidly, with no romance, but plenty of discipline.

Anonymous.

The learned gentleman at McGill University who is going to make a study of icebergs would save a lot of time and trouble by going to Northwestern where co-eds think the "Passion Play" is just another Scotch joke.

Those bold robbers who stole a considerable amount of money and jewelry from Ohio State frat houses were not so bold after all, if one considers that fact that Ohio State boys don't return from the "library" until the wee hours of morning.

MORE AND MORE ABOUT CHEER LEADERS

The last two issues of The Kernel have carried editorial comment on the cheer leader situation at the University. This week, some further discussion on the same subject seems quite apropos in the light of certain incidents arising from the Friday night pep rally and Saturday's game with Washington and Lee.

The meeting Friday night was proof enough that there is a slumbering, volcanic school spirit at the University. At times the fires of enthusiasm lie dormant, but when there is a pressing need those same flames scorch the entire school into sudden activity in support of the team.

The University burned with zealous fervor on the eve of the game. The student body came out to support the team in a manner rarely to be found in this school. They cheered and yelled and then did it all over again, under the direction of the cheer leaders.

All of this was heartening to the team and speaks well for the boys with the megaphones. But, there is a limit to which even a cheer leader can go. That limit was reached Saturday afternoon when the cheer leaders began swearing at the crowd in an effort to elicit hearty cheers when the boys and girls were doing the best that strained throats would permit.

Time and again persons in the stadium were heard to remark that they would NOT yell for people who had the effrontery to swear at them. Some of the swear words were of the nature which do not find their way into The Kernel columns. They were a disgrace to the student body of the University. Small wonder, then, that visitors at our games go away with the worst impressions concerning the school.

Not only do the visitors carry such convictions home with them, but they circulate them where they will do the most harm. Several prominent downtown business men were discussing the disgraceful conduct of the cheer leaders early in the week. They were of the opinion that driving, bullying, swearing megaphone artists should have no place in athletic functions at this University. And they were right.

If the procedure in front of the stadium should be repeated, rather drastic action may be taken to put an end to it. Such a step would be taken, not with any personal feeling against the cheer leaders, but in an effort to preserve inviolate the good name of the University.

The Kernel, on behalf of students and visitors at the games, takes a definite stand against such unseemly conduct. Not only does it violate the principles embodied in The Kernel platform, but it is a clear violation of those student rights discussed in another editorial on this page. Boys and girls attending this University have the right to attend games with parents and friends without having to listen to low caste swearing and vulgar epithets.

A SEATING SYSTEM

Since the Washington and Lee encounter Saturday we have heard many objections to the manner in which reserved seats were handled at the game. A student wishing to take someone to a game cannot enter the same gate with that friend. If they wish to sit together, they must meet inside the field. In one instance last week, the athletic department lost $5 because of this system. One boy, desirous of taking his parents, was made to believe that he would not be permitted to sit with them, consequently they remained away from the game.

A student ticket should be as good as a reserved seat ticket and students should be enabled to trade a coupon for a reserved seat. Many students would be glad to pay a small fee to make this change. Some schools reserve all the seats in the stadium, allowing one seat for each coupon and allowing the student to buy as many seats adjoining his own as he desires.

One objection made by the athletic department in permitting students to take friends into the student section is that only 2400 seats are reserved in that section. According to the Registrar's figures there are 2800 students in the University to fill 2400 seats.

October—the season of autumn leaves, memories, sorority house marines and boisterous brawls in the gymnasium. It is the span between summer and winter and is the convalescent month of the year. It's getting too chilly for the fair sex to longer enjoy their furs, so they have cached away the fox and skunk and are blossoming forth in scanty footgear and abbreviated skirts to flirt with influenza, pneumonia and dandruff. The boys have shed their B. V. D's and have slipped into their sheep-lined underwear just in time to tune their vocal chords and warble sentimental songs on sorority porches in the wee small hours of the night. But the horse and buggy days are gone forever and now a fellow who extinguishes a flame at midnight is not necessarily a fireman.

There has been a brawl, a shlee, a massacre, or whatever cognomen you may choose, but it certainly could not be properly defined as a dance unless you desire to call a struggle between "Strangler" Lewis and "Big" Munn a moonlight waltz. Coach Gamage has issued orders that all gridiron gladiators will not be permitted to attend any more of the fall riots lest they sustain physical injuries that will prevent them from participation in other athletic contests.

Washington and Lee Routed by Wildcats

Spicer is Star of Initial Conference Victory of Kentucky
Facing their first major test of the 1929 season, the University of Kentucky Wildcats last Saturday routed the Washington and Lee Generals on Stoll field by a 20 to 6 victory. Approximately 10,000 persons filled McLean stadium to watch the Big Blue put in its first real bid for the Southern Conference championship.

The opening period of the game, although played in W. and L. territory, was even up between the old rivals. In the second canto, Kentucky scored first when Spicer, craftily field general, drove 23 yards through tackle for a touchdown. Covington added the extra point. The touted General aerial combination of Faulkner to Williams got into action a few minutes later, the elongated end evading the Wildcats secondary and sprinting across the goal. Forquer blocked the attempted kick.

The Magamen increased their meagre lead in the second half when Kelley slipped through tackle, ricocheted off the sideline, cut back across the field toward his interference, and paced sixty yards for a marker. Spicer added another to the score in the final stanza after

NINE ADDITIONS TO AG. FACULTY ARE ANNOUNCED

Nine additions and one transfer in the College of Agriculture and the Experiment Station have been made for the current school year, according to an announcement by Dean Thomas P. Cooper.

The new faculty members represent seven schools, including the University. Their names and the work they do are listed below.

C. J. Bradley, a graduate of the University, has been chosen research assistant in the department of marketing and rural finance. Prior to his appointment by Dean Cooper, he served on the faculty of the University of North Carolina.

S. Caton, a graduate of Kansas State Agricultural College will succeed J. R. Smythe as extension field agent in poultry husbandry. Mr. Smythe is now at the University of Maine where he is head of the poultry department.

Miss Ruth Boyden, a graduate of the University of California, has been employed to do research work in home economics in the experiment station.

Miss Blanch Stansil, a graduate of the University of Tennessee and Peabody College, will become assistant professor of home economics.

Roy E. Proctor, a graduate of the University, succeeds Harry A. Ward as field agent in farm management. John C. Bach, of Magoffin county, a graduate of Berea College, and B. W. Fortenberry, of Pike county, a graduate of the University, have been appointed agricultural agents in their respective counties.

New appointees for home demonstration agents are Miss Callie Everhart, a graduate of Berea College; Miss Lois Husebo, of the South Dakota College of Agriculture, and Miss Frances Stallard, a graduate of the University.

passes put the ball in position to score.

The entire Kentucky line met every General attack in a commendable manner. With a touchdown imminent, the visitors gained a first down within the ten-yard zone but the Blue wall held for downs and the ball changed hands on the three-yard strip. Outstanding in the line were "Little Max" Colker, at center, and Tom Walters, subbing for Drury.

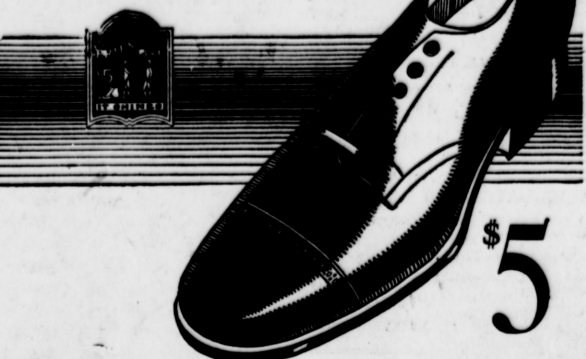

LOST—Pair of silver-rimmed glasses on the campus, Wednesday morning. Finder please call J. W. Cleary at Ashland 4651.

SENIORS: You will have a chance to get your picture made for the 1930 Kentuckian on October 22 or 23. This is the last trip that the photographer will make to the University of Kentucky Campus.

Tobacco's at its best ... in a pipe

MEN'S preference for a man's smoke—the pipe—is plenty positive. But do you know why? We'll tell you.

First, pipe tobacco's different—for instance, Edgeworth. Second, tobacco smolders as it should in a pipe. And third, these mean you get more satisfaction—greater relish of the good old savory burley, soothing fullness of rich smoke.

There's even a fourth reason: you like good company. The pipe-smoking brotherhood is that.

Tobacco's at its best in a pipe. It gets a chance to be itself there—to loosen up as it comes to life, to expand and take in air and glow. Only the choicest leaves get that chance, moreover, for pipes tell the truth about tobacco. Choice leaves, choice blends, and mighty careful handling. Edgeworth comes up through eleven distinct processes before we're willing to pass it on to you.

If you keep on missing all this, that's your fault—for we're waiting to send you your first pipeful of Edgeworth. See the coupon? Fill it out, get a good pipe and the postman will bring you a neat little glad-to-meet-you packet of good old Edgeworth.

Edgeworth is a careful blend of good tobaccos—selected especially for pipe-smoking. Its quality and flavor never change. Buy it anywhere—"Ready Rubbed" and "Plug Slice"—15¢ packet package to pound humidior tin.

Sign Two-Year Contract To Meet Wildcats on Grid

According to an announcement made Wednesday by the athletic department, the University of Alabama football team will oppose the Kentucky Wildcats on Stoll field, November 15, 1930. S. A. "Daddy" Boles, athletic director, has signed a two-year contract with the Alabama officials and the Wildcats will retaliate by meeting the Crimson Tide in Tuscaloosa the following season.

Not since the fall of 1922, when the 'Cats eked out a 6 to 0 victory over the Crimson, has an Alabama team performed on the Kentucky grid-iron. Always a formidable outfit in Southern Conference sport circles, the Tide is this year rated without a peer in the South. The appearance of Wallace Wade and his men on Stoll field will be the outstanding event on the Kentucky athletic calendar. Negotiations are also under way with the officials of Ohio State University to arrange a tilt in Columbus between the Wildcats and the Ohioans. Nothing definite has been settled as yet, however. There is also a possibility of a game being scheduled with the West Virginia Mountaineers.

Intramural Sports

ROLLER SKATING

Ladee-e-e-z and Gentlemen-n-n!
The Intra-mural Department will present for your approval, on next Thursday afternoon, October 24, the grand prize-blue ribbon event of the fall season, the annual Roller Skating carnival.

All nominations and entry blanks must be filed in the Intra-mural office not later than high noon on Tuesday. Two days later, promptly at 2 bells, the starter will issue post calls for all entries in the first race. What Paul Revere and Barney Google were to horse racing and what the Kentucky Derby is to the turf world, the roller carnival is to the University of Kentucky. Director Sid Robinson, and his assistant, Bill Saunders, announce that all is in readiness for the most elaborate and universally-enjoyed sport classic that is ever offered in Lexington.

The events will be skated over the scenic course on Euclid avenue which will be roped off for the occasion, not to prevent encroachments but to assist all erratic performers in maintaining their bearings (literally, of course). The starter will take his stance in front of the Men's Gym, align the wheeled speed demons, snap out a brisk "Go," and the race will be on. To say that the undulating surface of the Euclid asphalt requires skill on the part of the contestants would be putting it mildly. So all grandstand spectators and railbirds are guaranteed a first-class exhibition during the afternoon's sport.

The handicappers have arranged a number of varied events for the day. The program will contain a 100-, 200-, and 400-yard dash and a half-mile "skate" for the male contingency while the misses will match their speed in races of 50, 100, and 200 yards. There will be a 400-yard relay race for four-men team while a similar event at 200-yards is carded for four-ode teams. In addition, there will be prizes awarded for the best fancy skating team composed of a boy and girl. So get out your old "Rolls-Roughs," oil up the rusty bearings and have your entries in by Tuesday noon.

CROSS-COUNTRY
Mr. Robinson and his group of embryonic Nurmi's will complete tomorrow their second week of training in preparation for the annual cross-country meet to be held this fall on November 8. About forty men are reporting daily for workouts and instruction in distance running so the actual overland trek next month should exceed all such previous events in interest. The former Olympic star is greatly encouraged by the prospects of some of his runners, who, although still green material, are expected to develop into formidable track men.

GOLF

On next Monday, the last eight of the pro's, amateurs, duffers, or whatnot composing the quarter-finalists of the annual fall intramural golf tournament will tee off on the links of the Picadome course. The remnants of the forty original starters are scattered along the wayside and only the fittest survive. The finals are expected to be reached by October 26.

Meeting the same fate as Tech, Yale, and other heavily-backed favorites, two of the University's "pasture pool" experts were eliminated in the preliminaries. Bill Lusk was dropped from the running in the third round by Meredith, 3 and 1. Harry Calloway was eliminated by another favorite, Earl Senff, only after a hard fight, the match going to the twenty-second hole.

In the upper bracket, Meredith will meet the winner of the Strahan-Madox match for the top berth in the semi-finals. Senff will match strokes with Billy Maxson for the other place in the same round.

Henry Lewis, present odds-on favorite, will test his putter against Walter Vest in one of the lower bracket quarter-finals. Lewis marched over Mark Franklin and Freddie McLane without difficulty to gain his present position. Vest eliminated Sampson, 6 and 5, but almost met a tartar in Jess Laughlin who finally gave up on the twentieth green to put Vest among the last eight.

At the last post position is a dark horse, John Buskie, who is already in the semi-finals. Aided by two forfeits, Buskie holds a 3 and 2 victory over Russ Lutes and will meet the winner of the Lewis-Vest tilt in what is sure to be a good match.

TENNIS

From a starting field of an even six dozen entrants, only sixteen men remain in the chase for the fall intra-mural singles trophy. Despite the large number of entries the third round of the tourney is practically completed and the quarter-finals berths are expected to be determined by the middle of next week.

The fourth round schedule calls for Lusk to meet Steely and Morris to vie with Bill Kelly in the top half of the upper bracket. "Scaly" Roberts will play O'Bryant for the opportunity of meeting Carr in the fourth round, the winner of this bout to be pitted against Stapleton, who has already made his way into the quarter-finals.

The other half of the tourney schedule also finds one racketeer in the quarter-final go. Emil Johnson defeated Gess, O'Dear, Jones, and Milward in order to assure himself of a reservation among the best eight. He will meet the victor in the Henry Lewis-DeGaris dispute. The other fourth round ticket calls for a match between Dundon and Gross while Hurd will face the winner of the Kruger-Cecil Combs affair.

The doubles championship fight also nears completion with nine teams still in the consideration. Combs and Roberts, the favorites, will drive against Vaughn and O'Bryant while another S. A. E. pair, Kelly and Martin, are carded to play Gross and Morris.

The lower bracket finds Emil Johnson and David Ambrose lined up against Groerer and Klein. Lusk and Crump in the quarter-finals without playing a single match will volley across the net with the winner of the Poole and Kruger-Ferguson and Gatewood argument.

CAN YOU PICK THE ALL-AMERICAN?

10 Learbury Suits and Topcoats given to Winners!

10 Learbury Suits and Topcoats will be awarded to the 10 contestants whose selections for this year's All-American Football Team are closest to the one chosen by College Humor. Selections must be made on Learbury entry blanks. Contest closes Midnight Nov. 23rd. Come in now for your free Learbury entry blanks.

Varsity Tennis Team Practices

In the varsity round-robin tournament now under way on the University tennis courts, only two matches have been played. Earl Senff defeated Milward, 6-1 and 6-0. Ragland also took Milward into camp to the tune of, 6-1, 6-1.

These men are the only ones that have been taking advantage of the excellent tennis weather prevalent in the last three weeks.

Last spring, the University of Kentucky was represented by an excellent varsity tennis team. The squad was composed of Ragland, Joe Kee, Hammersley, Senff, Brook, Davidson, and Spicer. Only two matches were lost by the team; one to Georgia Tech and one to Alabama. Along the victories chalked up by the Blue and White athletes in this sport was the defeat of the strong St. Xavier team from Cincinnati, the first time the Green had ever been defeated by a Kentucky college.

Prospects for the team next spring are exceedingly bright and Coach H. Downing expects to place a much stronger team on the courts. In addition to last year's regulars none of whom were lost by graduation there will be Combs, Lusk, and Todd. Todd was ineligible last year but is expected to have that matter well in hand by the time spring practice rolls around and may be counted on to give any of the regulars a real battle for his position.

Among the prospects coming up from the freshmen ranks are: Klein, Kruger, Farquhar, Ed Kee, Gfroerer, Yates, and Yeager. During the early practice sessions of last year the aspirants were severely handicapped by the fact that only five courts were in condition for use until late in May.

It is expected that nine new courts will be added by next spring to those already available. However, according to Coach Downing, those of the squad not taking advantage of fall practice daily, are endangering their chances of making any of the trips next year.

KENTUCKY 45; CARSON-NEWMAN 0

SHOULD SHE ASK HIM IN?—Lexington seems to be a great place to play in your own back yard. Seven football teams have "brung their dolls" to the Blue Grass and all seven have torn their pants on their way down the cellar door. Ignoring the traditional Kentucky hospitality rule, the Wildcats insulted Maryville and Washington and Lee by not letting them play on the east and west ends of Stoll Field. Transylvania treated the unsuspecting visitors even worse on Thomas Field, sending them home in the following fashion: Transy 51, Bethel 0; Transy 70, Cedarville 0; Transy 9, Louisville 0. And to show that the younger generation is keeping up with the times, the Lexington Blue Devils pleased their mamas and papas by running Stanford and Frankfort out of town on the short end of 87-0, 26-6 respectively. The games this week end will see Lexington keep up the high hatting of polite behavior. Transy should wallop Union College this afternoon; the Blue Devils are doped to lick Irvine Saturday afternoon and Saturday night (unless Mr. Gamage has a hurried consultation with Emily Post) the Wildcats will spill gravy all over Carson-Newman.

MORE ABOUT V. M. I.—I know a sports writer of a paper interested in Southern Conference football teams that will bet 5 to 3 that V. M. I. defeats the Wildcats at Lexington, Va., November 16. And sports writers seldom bet on doubtful football games. The good man reasons something like this: V. M. I. has one of the strongest teams in its history as was proved when they made faces at the Florida Alligators. When Kentucky plays V. M. I. this year they will be lagging in a coma following the Alabama game at Montgomery. And there is Kentucky's 18 to 6 victory over the Cadets last year. If you will rack your memory you will recall that the 'Cats clawed all the chevrons off the Cadets in the first half, and that in the second half the Flying Squadron got started and made five first downs in the third quarter and 10 first downs in the fourth quarter. V. M. I. still believes that they just got a late start in the game last year and this year they will be "rarin'" to take up where they left off. You can't get in on the money for there's none left; and anyway, why not place your money on an investment like the Kentucky-Centre game. There are still people at Centre who think the Praying Colonels have a chance.

And if you care to drink from the leaky dope bucket, take a look at this: V. M. I. beat Citadel 13 to 7; Citadel beat Oglethorpe 18 to 0; Oglethorpe beat Georgia 13 to 7, and Georgia beat Yale 15 to 0—which gives V. M. I. a 45 point better team than Yale.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN—The Yale Bulldog left Georgia last week with a can on his tail, and the rattle of this can was heard with great satisfaction throughout the South. Teams of east, middle west, and the far west have long looked with little more than disdain upon the efforts of Southern teams, but the "oil of alibi" cannot hide the fact that Georgia's 15 to 0 victory was earned. Georgia Tech helped matters last year by annexing the national championship. Pittsburg's recent debut in the Southland and Vanderbilt's unpardonable visit to Minnesota are the only black marks on the intersectional tussles this year. Our hats are off to Georgia.

The most interesting game for Kentucky fans tomorrow will be the Alabama-Tennessee engagement at Knoxville. Neither team has tasted defeat and the only possible outcome that would leave doubt as to the relative strength of the two teams would be a tie. College Humor picks Alabama to win 16 to 10, but then College Humor made the selection before Tennessee went crazy for touchdowns.

LOVE AND WAR AND SPORTSMANSHIP AND CENTRE—All is fair in love and war—maybe. A state of love has never existed in the football relations of Kentucky and Centre; and again, the idea of war is equally absurd as war is never fought for anything but material profit. And the State-Centre battle is one of tradition.

Despite the fact that some of the larger colleges and universities of the country have an honor agreement to refrain from scouting one another, the practice still exists by mutual understanding among Southern Conference and S. I. A. A. teams. It is further understood, however, that this scouting will be done at football games. To this end Duke University has erected a special box in its stadium for visiting scouts—not that Duke has much to lose.

A general opinion prevailed last year that the Praying Colonels knew about as much about Kentucky's signal formations as the Wildcats. And how? The fact that Kentucky's football managers have on a number of occasions asked certain individuals, who have patrolled the open end of Stoll Field daily to watch the 'Cats practice, to leave the grounds may shed some light on the situation.

Personally, I believe the 'Cats could tell The Colonels where each play was coming and still win easily enough.

The Kentucky-Washington and Lee game served as a sectional jam-boree for football scouts (closely related to the parlor scout family). Clemson, Centre, Carson-Newman, and Tennessee appeared in uniform for a pencil drill on Coach Gamage's formations.

Kentucky doesn't feel so badly about being refused the opportunity to lick Vanderbilt this year after seeing Minnesota do such a good job of it last Saturday. A motion is made in favor of thinking twice before giving Vandy a game when she petitions Kentucky next year.

Coach Kubale believes in psychology and prayers. During practice sessions at Danville recently the new mentor has been trying to make the Colonels feel at home in Wildcat territory by hiking them two miles up the Lexington pike after scrimmage. He made a great mistake, however, when he allowed his team to watch the Big Blue smash Washington and Lee from the safety of the bleachers.

Coach Pribble gave all his freshmen a taste of Georgetown's hide last week. Johnson, Bickel, Goggin, Boardman, and Darby led the 54 frosh. And they tell me the frosh sorta smeared the Kentucky varsity at times. One of the Big Ten teams is in for a big time next year.

EVANS WRITES FOR LAW REVIEW

Dean of University Legal School Contributes Article
To Issue of New York University Periodical

The September issue of the New York University Law Quarterly Review contains an article, "The Contractual Obligations and Transfers of Personal Representatives," written by Dean Alvin E. Evans of the Kentucky Law School.

The article is concerned chiefly with the contracts and contractual obligations of executors and administrators. When a person dies leaving an estate there are certain of his contracts which survive his death, making his estate liable for the obligations assumed under the contract.

At times it is necessary for the executor to continue the business of the deceased in order to dispose of the property to the advantage of the heirs. When he does this he must necessarily enter into contracts, and there has been some question as to his personal liability on the contracts made by him for the benefit of the estate.

It is into the technical and practical aspects of these problems that Dean Evans has delved. He is of the opinion that where the executor is compelled to continue the business of the deceased a wider power for the exclusion of personal liability might be worked out for the benefit of the executor.

The article is buttressed by copious citations to leading cases upon the subject, and reference to many textwriters. It is expected that this article will help clear up some of the legal problems concerning this subject, and those interested in wills are urged to read it.

Dean Evans teaches wills and has given a great deal of study to problems concerning them. He has written several articles of legal nature for the Law Journals of other colleges and frequently contributes to the Kentucky Law Journal.

Next week Dean Evans will attend the annual session of the American Bar Association which will meet in Memphis, Tennessee. The problem of American Legal Education will be discussed at this meeting.

Science Library is Open to Students
Contains 7,000 Publications,
In Charge of Attendant
At All Times

The first instance of a departmental library having a trained attendant from the main library in charge at all times is seen in the case of the science library, located in room 201 of the Science building, which has been open since September 16 for student use.

The library is a combination of the zoology library, formerly in Dr.
W. D. Funkhouser's office, the anatomy and physiology library last year was in the office of Dr.
Allen, and the geology library, which occupied a small room on the second floor of the Science building. The combination of these is now in a large room, formerly a laboratory.
It contains some 3000 books and periodicals, about 4,000 state and United States publications, and fifteen cases of up-to-date maps by the U. S. Geological Survey.

The library is open from 9 to 12 o'clock in the morning and from 2 until 5 in the afternoon, and is subject to the general rules of the main library, except that only graduate students are permitted to get books off the shelves. Under-graduates are requested to ask at the desk.

Fred Conn Obtains

The Kernel is in receipt of a copy of the Valley Fair edition of the Sherman Daily Democrat, published in Sherman, Texas. The issue, bearing the date of October 6, contains fifty-six pages arranged into four sections. About sixty per cent of the paper is given over to advertisements. Fred Conn, former student at the University, who is on the advertising staff of the paper, wrote many of the advertisements that appeared in the special edition.

Mr. Conn, whose home is in Lexington, Ky., was graduated from the University last June, receiving the degree of A. B. in journalism. While at the University he was advising manager of the Kentucky Kernel and an officer in the SuKy circle, student pep organization. He was a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, advertising fraternity, and president of Delta Chi, social fraternity.

ANDERSON LEAVES TONIGHT

Dean F. Paul Anderson, of the College of Engineering, will leave tonight for Detroit to attend the

ESSAY CONTEST IS ANNOUNCED

Louis Haggin Gives Prizes
For Advancement of Scientific Agriculture as a Memorial to His Father

An essay contest was announced
October 9, at the general assembly of the students and faculty of the College of Agriculture. This contest is sponsored by Mr. Louis Lee Haggin.

Mr. Haggin wished to give some money to the advancement of scientific agriculture as a memorial to his father. He decided that the best way to do this was to sponsor an essay contest in which a total sum of $150 would be given in five prizes to the writers of the best essays.

This contest is to be an annual event. The rules are as follows:

The contest is open to any student pursuing the course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Agriculture.

The subject is to be: "The Eye of the Master Fattens the Cattle."

All entries should be made in the office of Dean Cooper before October 23.

The essay should be approximately 1500 words in length.

Completed essays must be turned in to Prof. L. J. Horlacher by November 30.

Twenty-five entries are necessary for the contest.

Prizes will consist of:
First—Seventy-five dollars.
Second—Thirty dollars.
Third—Twenty dollars.
Fourth—Fifteen dollars.
Fifth—Ten dollars.

Ateneo Castellano
Plans Masquerade
Ball on October 29

El Ateneo Castellano, University
Spanish Club, held its second meeting of the year in the recreation room of Patterson hall at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The business consisted of the announcing of committees, the discussion of financial matters and the arrangement of social affairs.

A program was conducted by Miss Eleanor Smith. It included talks by the romance language department, piano solos, Spanish games, and an interesting address by Senor Riancho, of Cuba.

The next meeting of the organization will be Tuesday night, October 29, in the women's gymnasium where a masquerade Spanish ball will be held from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. The French Club has been invited as guests.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS ELECTS OFFICERS AT FIRST MEETING

Le Cercle Francais met at 3

We Want Candy!

FOR FOOTBALL CELEBRA-TIONS everybody wants Candy—and if you take a standing vote they will tell you to get it at our candy shop. For everybody knows no candy is quite so fresh and tempting.
